The bundles are here as teams look to make some extra cash with their 2025 VCT capsules. Just like last year, you can get your hands on a Classic skin featuring the logo and colors of your favorite team in the VALORANT Champions Tour. There are a few changes that have the community outspoken, however. Team-designed player cards were replaced with a generic one that simply alters it to the color and logo of the org. As of April 9, 2025, the Ascension teams for the year have gotten theirs! Aside from that, if you're excited to buy one, take a look first so you know what you're getting! There are over 45 2025 VCT team capsules available. Each one comes with the Classic skin, a gun buddy of the team's logo, a spray of the team's logo, and a player card to represent that team. The Classics allow for Radianite upgrades, giving you sound effects and a kill banner. You can also get the inspection animation that showcases an AR popup for the team. It even shows if they've won any league tournaments or international events! Each one costs 2,320 VALORANT Points, but it appears that this year, you can buy individual items separately! Let's dive in to the skins so you can see how they differ from the 2024 versions: Stay tuned to esports.gg for more esports news and VALORANT coverage. Team Capsules for VCT 2025 will become part of the game with Season 2025 and Patch 10. The Season 2025 came out on January 7 and 8 2025 depending upon your region. Moreover, the esports season for Valorant 2025 will begin on January 11, 2025. First matches for VCT will start with VCT 2025 China Kickoff. The VCT 2025 Team Capsules have been leaked by the popular Valorant leaker @ValorLeaks. The graphics were posted on their official X account. The skins included in the VCT 2025 Team Capsules are exclusive to Valorant's Classic. The bundles also include a player card themed by a Valorant team. Unlike in the VCT 2024 Team Capsules, where each team designed its player card, all of the player cards included in the VCT 2025 Team Capsules have a default design that's just slightly tweaked according to the team's colors and logo. Players are unhappy with 2025 VCT capsules as they think Valorant is not paying much homage and not giving much value to players who support their favorite teams. Here are all the teams that you can support with purchasing VCT 2025 Team Capsules skins. More official news about the capsules will be released soon by Riot Games on the Valorant Website. good to add something like this, edg is a big team but if a small org wins champs, something like that could add huge amounts of sales Alongside the plethora of new additions that the upcoming Valorant Episode 10 Act 1 update will bring to the game, the VCT 2025 team capsules take the spotlight for many players who are looking to support their favorite esports teams. Like its predecessor, the VCT 2025 team capsules will include cosmetics featuring team logos and will share a portion of their proceeds with the respective teams. Each VCT 2025 team capsule will include a Classic skin, a Gun Buddy, a Spray, and a Player Card, all featuring the team colors. The bundle will have a price tag of 2,320 VP, which roughly equates to 23$ USD. However, unlike last year, players will be able to grab individual items from the bundle separately. For instance, instead of buying the entire Capsule, you can choose to obtain a Classic skin for a price of 2,175 VP. At the start of Valorant Episode 10 Act 1, a total of 43 2025 VCT team capsules will be up for sale. Without further ado, let's check out the detailed list of all the VCT 2025 team capsules that the new Episode will introduce to the game: 6 DecWith the 2025 VCT Kickoff tournament just days away, we have just been given a first look at the latest Team Capsules for the upcoming season. Here's everything you need to know about the new team bundles. What's in the Bundle? The 2025 Team Capsules bring familiar content with some exciting updates. Each capsule includes a Classic skin featuring a refreshed design, complete with new visual effects. Additionally, every bundle will come with a Player Card, a Charm, and a Spray. A cool new effect has also been added to the inspect animation, which showcases the number of trophies the team has won in their time in Tier 1 VALORANT. Fnatic 2025 Classic inspect animation (Image Source: Fnatic) However, this year, all teams will share a unified Player Card design, with differences limited to a color swap and the respective team logo. There's still ambiguity about whether teams that recently ascended to the VCT Regional Leagues through Ascension will have their bundles included. Based on last year's trends, it seems likely they will receive their own capsules eventually. A similar question arises for BOOM Esports, who joined the VCT Pacific League after replacing BLEED Esports at the end of the 2024 season. As a Tier 1 team, many fans expect their bundle to debut either now or later in the season. Here is a look at all the bundles that have been revealed as of now: EDward Gaming, the reigning champions of VALORANT Champions 2024, are receiving a unique touch this year. Their custom Classic skin will feature special effects, possibly in the inspect animation or finisher, along with a unique Player Card, to celebrate their historic victory. As with the previous year, players can expect the 2025 Team Capsules to cost around 2344 VALORANT Points. These bundles are sure to excite fans as they support their favorite teams heading into the new VCT season. However, prices are subject to change on launch, especially for the EDG Capsule. So take this with a grain of salt. As for when the capsules will be made available, exact dates are yet to be confirmed, though we expect them to be obtainable in early January.
