Machrihanish Dunes Golf Club features a full driving range with all-season teeing ground and aiming targets from 100 to 250 yards out with a large practice putting green contoured to mimic the challenging putting surfaces you will encounter on the golf course. The practice range can be utilized on a fee basis for those not playing the golf course that day. The 18 hole putting green is located just outside the clubhouse. It is cut and manicured with the same precision as the greens on the course to give realistic practice conditions and provide a good indication as to the speed of the greens. The undulating surface provides a variety of puts including uphill, downhill and those that swing both ways. Chipping Green The 2 hole chipping area is alongside the putting green and there are a variety of lies to practice this aspect of your short game. A confident good touch immediately around the green can lead to lower scores with 'up and downs' that are often the difference between lower and higher handicap players so it's important not to overlook this part of the game. Short Game Practice area There is a separate 3 hole short game area behind the 8th and 9th holes which also has 2 practice bunkers that provide realistic practice conditions for bunker shots of different lengths. The area is over 100 yards in length which allows for quality pitching and chipping practice to the green from all angles. There are a variety of grass cuts to replicate shots from both the fairway and the rough.
